Self Care

We often talk about the advantages of practicing self-care and how it can boost your mental health and well-being. With COVID-19 changing the way we do most things, it's no surprise that how we do self-care has changed too. The pandemic has also made it especially important to check in with yourself and your mental health.

Your self-care plan does not have to be extravagant or expensive, but it should serve as an investment in your long-term wellness. It should help you safely alleviate stress and re-center yourself.

Cuidado Personal

Hablamos mucho sobre las ventajas de practicar el cuidado personal y cómo puede mejorar su salud mental y su bienestar. Con COVID-19 cambiando la forma en que hacemos la mayoría de las cosas, no sorprende que la forma en que nos cuidamos también haya cambiado. La pandemia también ha hecho que sea especialmente importante controlarse a sí mismo y a su salud mental.

Su plan de cuidado personal no tiene que ser extravagante ni costoso, pero debe servir como una inversión en su bienestar a largo plazo. Debería ayudarlo a aliviar el estrés de manera segura y volver a concentrarse.

The readings for the last three Sundays of the liturgical year take on a decidedly end-time mind set. Along with the readings for first two Sundays of Advent which begin the new liturgical year, the focus is on endings and new beginnings with all the anxiety, trepidation and letting go which such times of change and growth produce. November, the month of recollecting those who have gone before us in death, marked with the sign of faith, is an ideal time to explore the meaning of these transitional stages in our faith journey. Several lessons related to our faith journey are imparted to us in today's readings.

The first reading from 2 Maccabees recounts portions of the narrative of seven brothers along with their mother who are willing to die rather than compromise their beliefs. They are certain that God will vindicate them, raising them up to eternal life. Belief in the afterlife is late in coming to the Jewish people, such that at the time of Jesus, there is still much disagreement over it, as the gospel passage clearly indicates. But belief in a faithful, just God who would right all wrongs led to the conviction that God would reward the good and punish the wicked, if not in this life, then certainly in the next. This strong conviction is vividly and dramatically exemplified by this faithful and courageous Jewish family.

Responsorial Psalm 17 affirms that if we live in justice, we shall behold the face of God, no matter the earthly consequences of such a life style of justice. The verses implore God to attend to the psalmist's "suit," who has been faithful in the midst of various challenges to the contrary. A life lived in justice and right relationship towards all will be rewarded with deep, eternal intimacy in God's presence, eternally beholding God's face and continually deepening our relationship. Our second reading from 2 Thessalonians clearly proclaims that our God is faithful, continually strengthening us and guarding us no matter what difficulties we may encounter on our life's faith journey.

© J. S. Paluch Co., Inc.

God is God of the living

The gospel for this Sunday concerns itself with the perennial human question, namely, what will happen to us when we die. The question is posed by the Sadducees who did not believe in the resurrection of the body at the end of time, something held by the Pharisees and by Jesus himself. It is a trick question, attempting to trap Jesus. Jesus refuses to fall into their trap, asserting that God knows what is best for us and we are to trust in God's ways. The clear affirmation asserted by Jesus is that our God is a God of the living and not of the dead.

From the beginning, God has entered into loving relationship with us. That relationship is experienced as personal, deep and faithful. Nothing, not even death, can separate us from that loving relationship. Those united in loving relationship to God do not die to God, but rather live to God. This is the "dies natalis" tradition that we hold dear as Christians: that our day of death in this world is our day of birth into God. We are never separated from that deep and loving relationship that God has invited us into and continues to nourish and deepen in our lives.

Today, many things challenge us as a people and as a nation. We must select, uphold and affirm leaders who model God, leaders devoted to justice and right relationships no matter how difficult, challenging or outrageous. We too, both as individuals and as a nation, must be just in all that we say and do. We are to treat all, most especially the outcast, the stranger and the asylum seeker, with dignity, respect and hospitality, as hurting members of our human family. If we do this, then nothing can ever separate us from God or from one another. How will you rise to such a challenge as we begin to bring our liturgical year to a close?

Readings

Sunday, November 6

1st Reading: 2 Maccabees 7:1-2, 9-14

Psalm: Psalm 17:1, 5-6, 8, 15 (15b)

2nd Reading: 2 Thessalonians 2:16—3:5

Gospel: Luke 20:27-38

Sunday, November 13

1st Reading: Malachi 3:19-20a

Psalm: Psalm 98:5-6, 7-8, 9 (see 9)

2nd Reading: 2 Thessalonians 3:7-12

Gospel: Luke 21:5-19

Las lecturas de los últimos tres domingos del año litúrgico adquieren una mentalidad decididamente del final del tiempo. Junto con las lecturas de los primeros dos domingos de Adviento que comienzan el nuevo año litúrgico, el enfoque se centra en los finales y los nuevos comienzos con toda la ansiedad, la inquietud que producen esos tiempos de cambio y crecimiento. Noviembre, el mes de recordar a los que nos han precedido en la muerte, marcados con el signo de la fe, es un tiempo ideal para explorar el significado de estas etapas de transición en nuestro viaje de fe. Se nos imparten varias lecciones relacionadas con nuestro viaje de fe en las lecturas de hoy.

La primera lectura de 2 Macabeos relata porciones de la narrativa de siete hermanos junto con su madre que están dispuestos a morir en lugar de comprometer sus creencias. Están seguros de que Dios los reivindicará resucitándolos a la vida eterna. La creencia en el más allá se tardó en llegar al pueblo judío, de modo que en la época de Jesús, todavía hubo mucho desacuerdo al respecto, como indica claramente el pasaje del evangelio. Pero la creencia en un Dios justo y fiel que corregiría todos los errores condujo a la convicción de que Dios recompensaría a los buenos y castigaría a los malvados, si no en esta vida, ciertamente en la próxima. Esta fuerte convicción es ejemplificada vívidamente y dramáticamente por esta familia judía fiel y valiente.

El Salmo 17 de respuesta afirma que si vivimos en la justicia, contemplaremos el rostro de Dios, sin importar las consecuencias terrenales de tal estilo de vida de justicia. Los versos imploran a Dios que atienda la "apelación" del salmista, que ha sido fiel en medio de varios desafíos en sentido contrario. Una vida vivida en justicia y relación correcta hacia todos será recompensada con una intimidad profunda y eterna en la presencia de Dios, contemplando eternamente el rostro de Dios y profundizando continuamente nuestra relación. Nuestra segunda lectura de 2 Tesalonicenses proclama claramente que nuestro Dios es fiel, nos fortalece y nos protege continuamente, sin importar las dificultades que podamos encontrar en el camino de fe de nuestra vida.

El evangelio de este domingo se refiere a la pregunta humana perenne, a saber, ¿qué nos sucederá cuando muramos? La pregunta es planteada por los saduceos que no creían en la resurrección del cuerpo al final de los tiempos, algo atribuido a los fariseos y a Jesús mismo. Es una pregunta capciosa, intentando hacer trampa a Jesús. Jesús se niega a caer en su trampa, afirmando que Dios sabe lo que es mejor para nosotros y que debemos confiar en los modos de Dios. La confirmación clara afirmada por Jesús es que nuestro Dios es un Dios de los vivos y no de los muertos.

Desde el principio, Dios ha entrado en una relación amorosa con nosotros. Esa relación se experimenta como personal, profunda y fiel. Nada, ni siquiera la muerte, puede separarnos de esa relación amorosa. Aquellos unidos en una relación amorosa con Dios no mueren a Dios, sino que viven para Dios. Esta es la tradición de "dies natalis" que apreciamos como cristianos: que nuestro día de muerte en este mundo es nuestro día de nacimiento en Dios. Nunca estamos separados de esa relación profunda y amorosa a la que Dios nos ha invitado y continúa nutriendo y profundizando en nuestras vidas.

Lecturas

Domingo, 6 de Noviembre

Primera Lectura: 2 Macabeos 7:1-2, 9-14
Salmo: Salmo 17:1, 5-6, 8b y 15
Segunda Lectura: 2 Tesalonicenses 2:16—3:5
Evangelio: Lucas 20:27-38

Domingo, 13 de Noviembre

Primera Lectura: Malaquías 3:19-20
Salmo: Salmo 98:5-6, 7-9a, 9bc
Segunda Lectura: 2 Tesalonicenses 3:7-12
Evangelio: Lucas 21:5-19

Hoy, muchas cosas nos desafían como pueblo y como nación. Debemos seleccionar, defender y afirmar líderes que modelen a Dios, líderes dedicados a la justicia y las relaciones correctas, sin importar que tan difícil, desafiante o escandaloso sea. Nosotros, tanto como individuos como nación, debemos ser justos en todo lo que decimos y hacemos. Debemos tratar a todos, especialmente a los marginados, los extranjeros y los solicitantes de asilo, con dignidad, respeto y hospitalidad, como miembros perjudiciales de nuestra familia humana. Si hacemos esto, entonces nada puede separarnos de Dios o el uno del otro. ¿Cómo se enfrentará usted a tal desafío ya que comencemos a cerrar nuestro año litúrgico?

This Week's Do You Know Video:

In bringing this series on stewardship to a close, the focus is on the God-given gift of treasure, our money and wealth. As Christians we believe that all that we have are gifts given to us by God to use for our own good and the good of the entire human family. How we use, invest and steward our money says much about who we are and what we value and hold dear. What do we treasure? Look at the way you use your money. The biblical tradition emphasizes that from God's many gifts, we are to use what we need, only what we need, and share/give the rest to others, especially those in need. As disciples it is important to pray for the wisdom to understand the difference between our wants and our true needs. Make time to view this week's DYK video and learn some of the ways in which you can use your treasure to honor God and benefit the human family.

Interpreted Mass for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing

iCare Ministries, Inc. and Catholic Charities Deaf and Disabilities Ministries department are partnering to sponsor a special Mass for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing at St. Thomas More parish on Saturday, November 12 at 6:00pm. For more information: lcarrow@cccharities.com.

"Jesus said to them, 'The children of this age marry and remarry; but those who are deemed worthy to attain to the coming age and to the resurrection of the dead neither marry nor are given in marriage. They can no longer die, for they are like angels; and they are the children of God because they are the ones who will rise.'"

Luke 20:34-36

Stewardship is not ultimately about the amount or kind of time, talent, and treasure we offer. It is about the conviction that everything we have is a gift from our loving God whom we can never truly repay and with whom we want to live forever. Revisiting these three aspects of our lives regularly, prayerfully discerning the best use of our gifts, and putting this down in writing clarifies and strengthens our conviction to put God first. It is a clear guide and a powerful aid in living out this conviction in concrete ways day-by-day. That is the "why" of stewardship.

"En esta vida, hombres y mujeres se casan, pero en la vida futura, los que sean juzgados dignos de ella y de la resurrección de los muertos, no se casarán ni podrán ya morir, porque serán como los ángeles e hijos de Dios, pues él los habrá resucitado."

Lucas 20:34-36

La corresponsabilidad no se trata en última instancia de la cantidad o el tipo de tiempo, talento y tesoro que ofrecemos. Se trata de la convicción de que todo lo que tenemos es un regalo de nuestro amoroso Dios a quien realmente nunca podremos pagar y con quien queremos vivir para siempre. Revisar estos tres aspectos de nuestras vidas regularmente, discernir en oración el mejor uso de nuestros dones y poner esto por escrito aclara y fortalece nuestra convicción de poner a Dios primero. Es una guía clara y una poderosa ayuda para vivir esta convicción de manera concreta día a día. Ese es el "por qué" de la corresponsabilidad.

Meet Our Scholarship Students in El Salvador

Major: Education, English Teaching
School: Catholic University of El Salvador, Ilobasco
Expected Graduation: May 2028

Rafael's father, received a 3rd-grade education and is a farmer. His mother received a 6th-grade education and is a homemaker. Rafael is the first person in his small community of San Antonio to receive a scholarship. His greatest obstacle is transportation, as he has to walk 2 kilometers to catch the bus. Then the bus ride to the university is several hours long. Another obstacle is that many people in his community would rather he become a farmer than get an education. After graduation, he hopes to teach English to those in schools and also to those in his community.

Conozca a Nuestros Becados en El Salvador

Carrera: Educación, Profesor de Inglés
Escuela: Universidad Católica de El Salvador, Ilobasco
Año de Graduación: Mayo del 2028

El padre de Rafael, recibió una educación de 3er grado y es agricultor. Su madre recibió una educación de sexto grado y es ama de casa. Rafael es la primera persona en su pequeña comunidad de San Antonio en recibir una beca. Su mayor obstáculo es el transporte, ya que tiene que caminar 2 kilómetros para tomar el autobús. Luego, el viaje en autobús a la universidad dura varias horas. Otro obstáculo es que muchas personas en su comunidad preferirían que se convirtiera en agricultor antes que estudiar. Después de graduarse, espera enseñar inglés a los que están en las escuelas y también a los de su comunidad.

Hand Chime Choir

What are Hand Chimes?

They sound a lot like hand bells, but are lighter and easier to play.

Hand chimes are held at the bottom and played by moving your arm and wrist so that the clapper strikes the chime.

Who can play?

Children and adults can enjoy playing hand chimes.

It is helpful to have some music reading experience, but not necessary. We can teach you what you need to know.

When will the Hand Chime Choir play?

The first event the Hand Chimes will play for is Christmas Eve Mass at 4:00 PM. Other events will be planned once we establish a group of players.

Rehearsals will be Wednesday evenings at 6:00 PM starting November 9, 2022.

Formation for Hospitality Minister, Eucharistic Minister, and Lector

Monday, November 7 at 7:00-8:30 PM in the Parish Hall

Getting involved during Mass is a great way to get to know other parish members and to offer yourself in service.

The great thing about serving at Mass is you are already here! It doesn't take much additional time once you are prepared.

What do these ministers do?

Hospitality Minister: Ministers of hospitality help create a sense of welcome as they greet all who enter the church and offer a friendly smile. They also pass out bulletins and help with other "people" oriented tasks.

Lector: Lectors minister to our community by proclaiming Scripture at Mass and other parish functions.

Extraordinary Minister of Holy Communion or Eucharistic Minister: Eucharistic Ministers serve the parish by assisting the priest with the distribution of Holy Communion at Mass.

How Can I Register?

Scan to register!

Just scan this QR code to fill out a Google Form to register for the November 7th session. Or email or call Susan Ratigan at susan@stsabinaparish.org 816-979-3158.

In God's Image -A Peace and Justice Column On Housing and Food Insecurity

Housing and food are two of the most basic human necessities of life, and they represent two of the largest portions of an average family's budget. In Scripture we have many examples of God providing for His people. This month let us focus on how God provides for us out of His infinite fatherly love and how we can be the hands and feet of Our Lord for others in the area of housing and food.

- In the Old Testament, as part of His covenant with His people, God provides the Israelites with a homeland "flowing with milk and honey." (Ex. 3:8)
- God provides for His prophet Elijah and then, because of him, provides for the widow of Zarephath and her son:
 - ⊆ "The word of Yahweh came to him, 'Go away from here, go east and hide by the torrent of Cherith, east of the Jordan. You can drink from the stream, and I have ordered the ravens to bring you food there.'" (1 Kings 17:1-3)
 - ⊆ Later, when the stream dried up, God told him to go to the widow of Zarephath. Once there:... Elijah said to her, "Do not be afraid,... For Yahweh, God of Israel, says this: 'Jar of meal shall not be spent, jug of oil shall not be emptied, before the day when Yahweh sends rain on the face of the earth.'" (1 Kings 17:7-16)
- In the Gospels of the New Testament, we see how Our Lord provides food for those following and listening to him in the multiplication of the loaves and fishes (Mt. 14:15-21; Mk 8:1-9; Jn. 6:1-13).

A Imagen de Dios -Una Columna de Paz y Justicia Sobre la Inseguridad Alimentaria y de Vivienda

La vivienda y la comida son dos de las necesidades humanas más básicas de la vida, y representan dos de las porciones más grandes del presupuesto de una familia promedio. En las Escrituras tenemos muchos ejemplos de Dios proveyendo para Su pueblo. Este mes concentrémonos en cómo Dios nos provee por Su infinito amor paternal y cómo podemos ser las manos y los pies de Nuestro Señor para los demás en el área de la vivienda y la alimentación.

- En el Antiguo Testamento, como parte de Su pacto con Su pueblo, Dios proporciona a los israelitas una patria "donde abundan la leche y la miel" (Ex. 3:8).
- Dios provee para Su profeta Elías y luego, gracias a él, provee para la viuda de Sarepta y su hijo:
 - ⊆ "Entonces la palabra del Señor vino a Elías y le dio este mensaje: «Sal de aquí hacia el oriente, y escóndete en el arroyo de Querit, al este del Jordán. Beberás agua del arroyo, y yo les ordenaré a los cuervos que te den de comer allí»" (1 Reyes 17: 2-4).
 - ⊆ Algún tiempo después, cuando se secó el arroyo, Dios le mandó a la viuda de Sarepta. Al llegar Elías le dijo: "No temas... así dice el Señor, Dios de Israel: 'No se agotará la harina de la tinaja ni se acabará el aceite del jarro, hasta el día en que el Señor haga llover sobre la tierra'." (1 Reyes 17: 7-16)
- En los Evangelios del Nuevo Testamento, vemos cómo Nuestro Señor proporciona alimento a quienes lo siguen y lo escuchan en la multiplicación de los panes y los peces. (Mt 14:15-21; Mc 8:1-9; Jn 6:1-13)

Manos Amigas Winter Needs Appeal

Winters in Anapra, Mexico are cold and houses have no insulation. People with little to no income struggle to survive the winters. Apelación para las Necesidades de Invierno de Manos Amigas

Los inviernos en Anapra son fríos y las casas no tienen insulación. Las personas con poco o ningún ingreso luchan por sobrevivir los inviernos. Manos Amigas brinda calefacción a 25 adultos de la tercera edad de noviembre a febrero. Algunos usan gas y otros usan leña para calentar sus hogares. Esperan un invierno muy frío este año y dependen de este apoyo.
