This Week's Do You Know Video:

As we celebrate the feast of St. Sabina on August 29, it is important to know that there is no evidence at all that St. Sabina ever existed. The legend that she was an aristocratic widow who was converted to Christianity by her Syrian slave, Serapia, and that they were both martyred for being Christians in the year 125 under Emperor Hadrian has no basis in fact. Make time to view this week's DYK video and learn more about the story behind the origins of the St. Sabina legend.

Blood Drive—September 13

We will be hosting another blood drive on Tuesday, September 13. The Community Blood Center will be in the parish gymnasium from 1:30-6:00pm. Schedule your appointment today at savealifenow.org/group and use the group code: MA. Medical eligibility questions? Call 1.800.688.0900.

St Sabina Community Food Pantry Garden

Our garden is a registered donation garden as a part of the Community Partnership Program with Kansas City Community Gardens (KCCG). All of the produce and fruit is grown specifically for the local food pantries in our area. Once our volunteers harvest the produce, it is then weighed and registered with KCCG. It is then delivered to the local food pantries. The produce is distributed from there to where it is greatly needed.

Our volunteer days and hours are:

- Mondays, 7am-11:30am (harvest day)
- Wednesdays, 7am-11:30am (harvest day)
- Saturdays, 7am-11:30am

During cooler weather we begin at 8am.

Come and join us in volunteering to give back to our community! We are self-supported and donations are greatly appreciated. For more information, contact Yvonne Garman at 816-223-4522 or garmanyvonne5@gmail.com.

Wellness Center

Did You Know - Family dinners are an important part of healthy living. Research shows when families dine together, they tend to eat more vegetables and fruits -- and less fried food and drink less soda. When younger children eat dinner with their families, they are less likely to be overweight than other children, and teenagers are more engaged with their families.

Here are 8 benefits of Family Dinners:

- Kids are more likely to stay away from cigarettes
- They're less likely to drink alcohol
- They're less likely to use illicit drugs
- School grades will be better
- You and your kids will talk more
- You'll be more likely to hear about a serious problem
- Kids will feel like you're proud of them
- There will be less stress and tension at home

Keep the meal simple and be prepared by keeping healthy ingredients on hand. Get the family involved. Let kids help prepare meals and set the table. The biggest tip is to have fun and let this be a time to listen to each other, share the day's stories, and nurture the family connection.

The responsorial psalm and refrain capture well the message of this Sunday's readings. Responsorial Psalm 68 resounds with the refrain that "God, in your goodness, you have made a home for the poor." Our God is a God concerned for the poor, the outcast, the foreigner, the widow, and the orphan. The emphasis on God making a home for the poor is a rich image portraying God's care and concern. Today, both individually, communally and as a nation, we are challenged to be and act like our God.

Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co., Inc.

How concerned are we for the poor, the outcast, the foreigner, the widow, and the orphan? How attuned are we to the need of the immigrant and the stranger who live among us, no matter how they got here? How attuned are we to the needs of those families and individuals fleeing poverty and violence, seeking asylum at our door? The scripture readings give us guidelines on how we can grow in our efforts to model ourselves on our God who shows care and concern for all, especially the poor and the outcasts, the immigrant and all those seeking asylum.

Luke's gospel recounts a passage that involves two parables, the first is directed at guests invited to a banquet, while the second is aimed at the host of the banquet. Both are admonished to be and act humbly. Humility does not mean putting oneself down or considering oneself unworthy of anything. Rather humility is linked closely to knowledge of self that leads to wisdom. What is the knowledge that leads to wisdom? Luke and the first reading from Sirach suggest that true wisdom lies in knowing that God is the giver of all gifts and that we are merely stewards who are challenged to act responsibly with all that God has given us.

If we have been blessed in life with wealth, possessions or other forms of riches, then true wisdom would require our acknowledgment that all we have has its source in a God who is concerned not only with us but with the poor as well. If we are to be God-like, we are to use what we have been given by God, not to please others who can repay us in kind, but rather to attend to the needs of those who will never be able to return the favor. As a guest, true wisdom requires not that I claim the best for myself, but rather that I be attuned to others who may need something more than I do, desiring nothing but the best for them, and working to make that happen. This is what God requires of us all, that we pay attention to the needs of others as we attend to our own needs.

The biblical principle of justice and right relationship demands that we take what we need for our own sustenance. It challenges each one of us to discern how much we truly need. Once we have discerned this, then the rest is given and shared with others so that they too can have what they truly need for their own sustenance. If we attempt to do this with all of life, then we will be people who model ourselves on our loving God who consistently manifests love and concern for all, especially the poor and the outcast.

The second reading from the letter to the Hebrews tells us that our God is not unapproachable. Through Jesus we have confidence and boldness to approach God in humility and joy. Jesus enables us to draw near to God and to learn how God desires us to live. Our baptismal call challenges us to grow in God's wisdom. Growing in God's wisdom should dominate our lives in relationship to God, self and others. Such wisdom ultimately leads to justice for all, for our God is a God much attuned to justice.

As you meditate on the readings, reflect on how you respond to the challenge of our baptismal call to grow in God's wisdom. Work towards making God's wisdom the source of true wisdom in your own life. Secure in that wisdom, work on leading lives of justice, striving to radiate justice wisdom to all you come into contact, most especially the poor, the needy, and the immigrant at our doors.

Sunday, August 28

1st Reading: Sirach 3:17-18, 20, 28-29
Psalm: Psalm 68:4-5, 6-7, 10-11 (see 11b)
2nd Reading: Hebrews 12:18-19, 22-24a
Gospel: Luke 14:1, 7-14

Sunday, September 4

1st Reading: Wisdom 9:13-18b
Psalm: Psalm 90:3-4, 5-6, 12-13, 14 and 17 (1)
2nd Reading: Philemon 9-10, 12-17
Gospel: Luke 14:25-33

El salmo responsorial y el estribillo capturan bien el mensaje de las lecturas de este domingo. El Salmo Responsorial 68 resuena con el refrán de que "Preparaste, oh Dios, casa para los pobres". Nuestro Dios es un Dios preocupado por los pobres, los marginados, los extranjeros, las viudas y los huérfanos. El énfasis en que Dios hace un hogar para los pobres es una imagen rica que retrata el cuidado y la preocupación de Dios. Hoy, individualmente, comunalmente y como nación, tenemos el desafío de ser y actuar como nuestro Dios.

¿Qué tan preocupados estamos por los pobres, los marginados, los extranjeros, las viudas y los huérfanos? ¿Qué tan sintonizados estamos con la necesidad del inmigrante y el desconocido que viven entre nosotros, sin importar cómo llegaron aquí? ¿Qué tan sintonizados estamos con las necesidades de aquellas familias e individuos que huyen la pobreza y la violencia y buscan asilo en nuestra puerta? Las lecturas de las Escrituras nos dan pautas sobre cómo podemos crecer en nuestros esfuerzos para modelarnos en nuestro Dios quien muestra cuidado y preocupación por todos, especialmente los pobres y los marginados, los inmigrantes y todos los que buscan asilo.

El evangelio de Lucas relata un pasaje que involucra dos parábolas. La primera está dirigida a los invitados en un banquete, mientras que la segunda está dirigida al anfitrión del banquete. Ambos son advertidos a ser y actuar humildemente. La humildad no significa menospreciarse o no considerarse digno de nada. Más bien, la humildad está relacionada con el conocimiento de uno mismo que conduce a la sabiduría. ¿Cuál es el conocimiento que conduce a la sabiduría? Lucas y la primera lectura de Sirácide sugieren que la verdadera sabiduría radica en saber que Dios es el dador de todos los dones y que somos simplemente mayordomos quienes están desafiados a actuar responsablemente con todo lo que Dios nos ha dado.

Si hemos sido bendecidos en la vida con riquezas, posesiones u otras formas de riqueza, entonces la verdadera sabiduría requeriría nuestro reconocimiento de que todo lo que tenemos tiene su origen en un Dios que se preocupa no solo por nosotros sino también por los pobres. Si queremos ser como Dios, debemos usar lo que Dios nos ha dado, no para complacer a otros que nos pueden pagar en especie, sino para atender las necesidades de aquellos que nunca podrán devolver el favor. Como invitado, la verdadera sabiduría no requiere que reclame lo mejor para mí, sino que estoy en sintonía con otros que pueden necesitar algo más que yo, que no deseo nada más que lo mejor para ellos y que trabajo para que eso suceda. Esto es lo que Dios requiere de todos nosotros, que prestemos atención a las necesidades de los demás al atender nuestras propias necesidades.

El principio bíblico de justicia y relación correcta exige que tomemos lo que necesitamos para nuestro propio sustento. Nos reta a cada uno de nosotros a discernir cuánto necesitamos realmente. Una vez que hemos discernido esto, el resto se da y se comparte con otros para que ellos también puedan tener lo que realmente necesitan para su propio sustento. Si intentamos hacer esto con toda la vida, entonces seremos personas quienes nos modelamos en nuestro Dios amoroso que constantemente manifiesta amor y preocupación por todos, especialmente los pobres y los marginados.

La segunda lectura de la carta a los Hebreos nos dice que nuestro Dios no es inaccesible. A través de Jesús tenemos confianza y valentía para acercarnos a Dios con humildad y alegría. Jesús nos permite acercarnos a Dios y aprender cómo Dios desea que vivamos. Nuestro llamado bautismal nos reta a crecer en la sabiduría de Dios. Crecer en la sabiduría de Dios debe dominar nuestras vidas en relación con Dios, uno mismo y los demás. Tal sabiduría finalmente conduce a la justicia para todos, porque nuestro Dios es un Dios muy sintonizado con la justicia.

"When you hold a lunch or a dinner, do not invite your friends or your brothers or your relatives or your wealthy neighbors, in case they may invite you back and you have repayment. Rather, when you hold a banquet, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind; blessed indeed will you be because of their inability to repay you. For you will be repaid at the resurrection of the righteous."

Luke 14:12-14

When we live in humility—recognizing that all we have is a gift from God and using those gifts to serve Him and others—then God "exalts" us by filling us with even more of Himself and His grace. Jesus encourages us to serve and share our blessings with people facing circumstances that would make it impossible for them to offer us any worldly advantage or prestige—"the poor, the crippled, the lame." Our attitude and how we serve and share should be centered on true humility—recognizing that we are all "little" ones in the eyes of God. We are all His children, brothers and sisters invited to our Father's heavenly banquet.

"Cuando des una comida o una cena, no invites a tus amigos, ni a tus hermanos, ni a tus parientes, ni a los vecinos ricos; porque puede ser que ellos te inviten a su vez, y con eso quedarías recompensado. Al contrario, cuando des un banquete, invita a los pobres, a los lisiados, a los cojos y a los ciegos; y así serás dichoso, porque ellos no tienen con qué pagarte; pero ya se te pagará, cuando resuciten los justos".

Lucas 14:12-14

Cuando vivimos en humildad, reconociendo que todo lo que tenemos es un don de Dios y usando esos dones para servirlo a Él y a los demás, entonces Dios nos "exalta" llenándonos aún más de Él mismo y de Su gracia. Jesús nos anima a servir y compartir nuestras bendiciones con las personas que enfrentan circunstancias que les harían imposible ofrecernos alguna ventaja o prestigio mundano: "los pobres, los lisiados, los cojos". Nuestra actitud y cómo servimos y compartimos debe estar centrada en la verdadera humildad, reconociendo que todos somos "pequeños" a los ojos de Dios. Todos somos Sus hijos, hermanos y hermanas invitados al banquete celestial de nuestro Padre.

Liturgical Minister Formation - Aug 31

What is a Liturgical Minister? We celebrate a liturgy any time the church gathers to pray publicly, like at Mass. There are several categories of those who minister to the needs of people gathered to pray during liturgies. Examples include Hospitality Ministers, who greet us at the door when we gather to pray in church; Lectors, who proclaim scripture during liturgies; and Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion, who assist the priest with the distribution of Holy Communion at Mass.

Why be active in ministry at Mass? These ministries are an ideal way to become involved at St. Sabina because you can minister at a time you are accustomed to being at church. Many liturgical ministers find that they gain a fuller understanding of the Mass and a deeper connection to others in the parish because of their involvement.

You are needed! We have openings to fill in each of these ministries. We need you to help at Mass.

How can I get started? A formation session to introduce you to all of the liturgical ministries (Eucharistic Minister, Lector, Hospitality Minister) will be held on Wednesday, August 31 at 7:00-8:30 PM in the parish hall. This session is the initial preparation for all, no matter what ministry you prefer. A second session will be held for formation in each particular ministry. We will plan the second sessions based on the needs of those who attend the August 31st session.

Register by emailing Susan Ratigan at susan@stsabinaparish.org.

In God's Image -A Peace and Justice Column On Euthanasia and Physician Assisted Suicide

The teachings of Pope John Paul II about sickness and death did not only come from his speeches, addresses, and encyclicals. He instructed just as convincingly with the witness of his own faith in the face of injury, suffering, hospitalization, illness and dying. He gave this catechesis for years.

He taught us that to understand death with dignity, first accept the dignity of life. Human dignity is an undeserved gift, not an earned status. The dignity of life springs from its source. We come to be by the loving action of God the Creator. "What is man that you are mindful of him, and the son of man that you care for him? You have made him little less than a god, and crown him with glory and honor" (Psalm 8:5). The dignity of life is beyond price. We have been ransomed not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ (1 Peter 1:18- 19). The dignity of life is clear from our calling. God's plan for human beings is that they should "be conformed to the image of his Son" (Romans 8:29). "For God created man for incorruption, and made him in the image of his own eternity" (Wisdom 2:23).

Prayer for a Happy Death

Dear Lord,

So many doubt Your love and providence. They doubt that You care for them when they suffer. Help everyone to remember that in times of pain and suffering You love us and watch over us. Against the movement toward legalization of euthanasia, many good people are trying to protect life until natural death. Help these individuals continue in their efforts to protect human life for the elderly, disabled, and handicapped.

Give them wisdom, courage, and perseverance, so they will be able to defend the dignity of each person. Give all men and women the insight to view human life with the dignity You have given them by virtue of Your creation. Give them faith in You and Your teachings to see divine truths about death. Grant them the virtue of hope so they will have confidence in Your bestowing the necessary grace and mercy to attain eternal life. Help in particular those who are elderly, infirmed, or living in nursing homes to see their vocation of uniting their prayers.

Give them the grace to understand that they are not a burden but a blessing for society. Assist those who help and serve them to be patient, loving, and respectful of the dignity You have given each person. Amen.

Almighty God, thank You for sustaining us through every stage of life, until our closing moments. Please draw near to all who are experiencing pain, serious disability, frailty or illness and, along with those who care for them, grant them comfort, hope and peace. Amen.

A Imagen de Dios -Una Columna de Paz y Justicia Sobre la Eutanasia y Suicidio Asistido

Las enseñanzas del Papa Juan Pablo II sobre la enfermedad y la muerte no provienen solo de sus discursos y encíclicas. Instruyó de manera igualmente convincente con el testimonio de su propia fe frente a las lesiones, el sufrimiento, la hospitalización, la enfermedad y la muerte. Dio esta catequesis durante años.

Nos enseñó que para comprender la muerte con dignidad, primero hay que aceptar la dignidad de la vida. La dignidad humana es un regalo inmerecido, no un estatus ganado. La dignidad de la vida brota de su fuente. Llegamos a ser por la acción amorosa de Dios Creador. "¿Qué es el hombre para que de él te acuerdes, y el hijo del hombre para que lo cuides ? ¡Sin embargo, lo has hecho un poco menor que los ángeles, y lo coronas de gloria y majestad!" (Salmo 8:5). La dignidad de la vida no tiene precio. Hemos sido rescatados no con cosas perecederas como plata u oro, sino con la sangre preciosa de Cristo (1 Pedro 1:18-19). La dignidad de la vida se desprende claramente de nuestro llamado. El plan de Dios para los seres humanos es que sean "transformados según la imagen de su Hijo," (Romanos 8:29). "Dios creó al hombre para que no muriera, y lo hizo a imagen de su propio ser" (Sab 2:23).

Oración por una Buena Muerte

Querido Señor,

Muchos dudan de Tu amor y providencia. Dudan que Tú te preocupes por ellos cuando sufren. Ayuda a todos a recordar que en tiempos de dolor y sufrimiento Tú nos amas y nos cuidas. Contra el movimiento hacia la legalización de la eutanasia, muchas buenas personas están tratando de proteger la vida hasta la muerte natural. Ayuda a estas personas a continuar con sus esfuerzos para proteger la vida humana de los ancianos y discapacitados.

Dales sabiduría, valor y perseverancia, para que sean capaces de defender la dignidad de cada persona. Da a todos los hombres y mujeres la perspectiva para ver la vida humana con la dignidad que les has dado en virtud de Tu creación. Dales fe en Ti y en Tus enseñanzas para que vean las verdades divinas sobre la muerte. Concédeles la virtud de la esperanza para que tengan confianza en Tu gracia y misericordia, necesarias para alcanzar la vida eterna. Ayuda en particular a los ancianos, enfermos o los que viven en hogares de ancianos a ver su vocación de unir sus oraciones.

Dales la gracia de comprender que no son una carga sino una bendición para la sociedad. Ayuda a quienes los cuidan a ser pacientes, amorosos y respetuosos de la dignidad que le has dado a cada persona. Amén.

Dios todopoderoso, gracias por sostenernos en cada etapa de la vida, hasta nuestros momentos finales. Por favor, acércate a todos los que están experimentando dolor, discapacidad grave, fragilidad o enfermedad y, junto con quienes los cuidan, concédeles consuelo, esperanza y paz. Amén.
